Multi-Million Dollar Plant to Employ 500, Second Large Industry for State in Week

By JUSTIN R. ANDERSON
Hot Springs, May 25 — (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced today a new departure in its operations — it is going to build a plant near here to make glass bulbs for incandescent lamps.

The company presently buys its light bulb blanks from other glass manufacturers.

Ralph C. Stuart, Bloomfield, N. J., vice president in charge of Westinghouse's lamp division, announced at a news conference that the new plant is expected to be built and put into operation by next year.

The plant is expected to cost about $4,000,000 and employ 500 persons.

Westinghouse is the second major industry to announce a new factory for this recreational area in central Arkansas. Two weeks ago, General Motors Corp., announced plans to build a multi-million dollar aluminum castings plant at Jones Mill, between Hot Springs and Malvern. Reynolds Metals has a big aluminum processing plant there.

The Westinghouse plant is to be built on a 30-acre site on the shore of Lake Catherine, four miles southeast of here. Availability of water was one of the reasons for selection of the Arkansas site. It also is close to other ingredients of glass bulbs — silica sand and limestone from northern Arkansas and soda ash from Louisiana.

About one-third of the production of bulbs — the trade name for light bulbs without the core — at the Hot Springs plant will be earmarked for Westinghouse's bulb assembly plant at Little Rock, 60 miles northeast. The company has seven other lamp plants in New Jersey, Kentucky, Texas and Alabama.

Stuart said glass bulb making is a continuous process and the Hot Springs plant would operate around the clock, seven days a week.

Dr. Arthur W. Wishart, former vice president of McKeeGlassCo., Jeannette, Pa., will head the new Westinghouse glass manufacturing division, with headquarters here.

Stuart said his company manufactures large glass tubes for fluorescent lamps and small diameter glass tubing for incandescent light bulbs and the fluorescent lamps, but the new venture will be the first manufacture of bulb blanks.

Congress Talks Over Foreign Aid Program

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, May 25 — (AP) — The grand strategy behind President Truman's big new foreign aid program confronted congress today with two critical issues of judgment about Communist strength and intentions.

These somewhat related issues, which may figure largely in debate on the President's proposals, are:

1. Whether the United States and its Allies in the next few years can discover means of seizing the initiative and waging the conflict with the Kremlin more on their own terms.
2. Whether this country can indefinitely peg its policies to a belief that popular unrest in the Communist world will eventually force the collapse of Russia's aggressive designs.

The President spelled out his views on these two points in his message to congress yesterday asking for $8,500,000,000 for global military aid and economic assistance in the year beginning July 1.

Mr. Truman said his program was designed with three major characteristics of the Soviet threat in mind — that it is world-wide; that it is total in the sense of involving military, economic and psychological warfare, political infiltration and sabotage; and that it is of "indefinite duration."

Current debate over the Truman administration's policies in Europe and the Far East have turned up little criticism for the idea that the Soviet menace is world-wide or that it is total. But administration critics have seemed concerned to find some way to keep the conflict from continuing indefinitely.

County Had 10 Killed in Auto Wrecks in 1950

The Arkansas State Police has just released 1950's highway accident record which shows 367 fatal accidents in Arkansas during the year as compared with 303 in 1949.

During 1950 Hempstead had a total of 80 accidents with 10 fatalities. This compares to 67 and 6 in 1949. District No. 4, headquarters here had 52 fatal accidents in 1950 as compared with 60 in 1949.

American Tanks in All-Out Push to Smash Reds

Tokyo, May 25 — (AP) — American tanks today were pushing across the 38th parallel more points in their drive to smash down the battered and beaten Communists.

The new offensive kept up pressure on the Reds, who were battling an Allied spearhead now thrust four miles into North Korea, the east-central front. Field dispatches said the crossings were made on the western front north of Seoul and on the central front northeast of Chongchon. Both these tank units were withdrawn to South Korea last night.

"The 36th parallel means nothing to me," said Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. 9th Army.

He showed he meant it by leading Red Korea's 1st Army into a tank force. It was a solidly as a huge road block of the border, the 36th parallel. He said his army's task was to push the Reds back into their own territory was a gamble he was willing to take.

"The Eighth Army is in an all-out offensive," Van Fleet said. "Considerable progress has been made."

Field dispatches told of one night of Chinese toward the 36th parallel, from some front. The Reds stubbornly fought back. The fighting Eighth Army, Van Fleet said, "will not be pushed back by such barriers as the 36th parallel, but will keep on pushing."

On a tour of the front Van Fleet said, "Distinguished. The 36th parallel has been crossed by Lt. Gen. Edward Almond, 10th Corps commander, and Maj. Gen. Charles A. Smith, Second Division commander, their part in pushing the 36th parallel crossing initiative."

He said the 36th parallel was a line of no return. "We intend to exploit every advantage in carrying out our offensive to find and kill the enemy."

18 American Troops Are Rescued

By STAN CARTER
Central Front, Korea, May 25 — (AP) — Eighteen American marines and one soldier captured by Chinese Communists last November were rescued today on the outskirts of the newly recaptured town of Chunchon.

All said they had been with Associated Press photographer Frank Noel at prison camps in North Korea from December until about March 7 or 8. They said Noel was in good health when they last saw him and they were sure he is alive and well. Noel was captured Dec. 2 in northeast Korea.

The liberated men seemed in good health. They were dirty and bearded.

They said they had been taken to a prison camp near the Manchurian border. Most were taken in the Changlin reservoir area and in the retreat of the U. S. marines from there.

Names of the liberated men were withheld.

The freed Americans told war correspondents they were among a group of 200 to 300 American prisoners who were marched to the vicinity of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang in March. Later, they said, they were sent south from Pyongyang while the remainder of the group was marched back north.

The liberated soldiers said Noel was one of those returned to the far north camp.

The freed Yanks said they had arrived in Chunchon yesterday after marching for seven days from the Communist assembly city of Chonwon in North Korea.

The men were rescued after a U. S. army light plane flew over Chunchon and sighted a ground distress signal pattern the 10 had fashioned from wallpaper they found in a ruined Korean house.

The plane radioed back to advancing American soldiers. Tanks were sent to the ruined city and picked up the Americans.

The prisoners said they were abandoned when the Chinese fled the town late yesterday.

They said Korean civilians from Chunchon fed them last night.

A Rogers, Arkansas Lass Is About the Prettiest Thing to Hit New York Recently

By Hal Boyle
New York, (AP) — Our town gets all kinds of ambassadors. The prettiest that showed up this week was "Miss Chicken-of-tomorrow." She is Joan Waters, an Ozark lass from Rogers, Ark., and she is lovely enough to pose as "miss chick-of-today."

She is 18 years old, stands five feet four inches, weighs 118 pounds and — to employ a poultry term — has a 24-inch keel.

I went to call on her at her hotel. She said frankly that her main task was to drum up interest in the national chicken-of-tomorrow week being held at the University of Arkansas June 11 to 16. This annual festival is part of a long-range program to get hen's eggs to grow into fatter chickens quicker than they used to.

Miss Walters opened a paper sack and pulled out a wax model of a dressed chicken. It was a scrawny thing, and she looked at it with hazel-eyed disdain.

"That is the chicken of six years ago," she said. "It doesn't have the new plump look."

Two members of her retinue immediately whipped out two other sacks containing the carcasses of two frozen chickens-of-tomorrow. Miss Walters quickly selected one.

"See, it is almost square. It has a bigger drumstick. The meat around the keel bone is rounder and there's more of it."

She pointed at the chickens frozen chest and necked.

"K-e-e-l!"

A faraway look came into the queen's eyes as she went on:

"It's like the difference between the automobile of today and the automobile of yesterday. A chicken 12 weeks old weighed 12 pounds and all you could do with it was a 12-week-old chicken. It was a crowd weighing in at five pounds and you couldn't do anything with it."

newspaper advertising, and it so impressed the buyers attending the market division sessions of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce that when the Advertising League polled the buyers about this month's speaker they gave a big majority to the Hope merchant.

His speech, on "Newspaper Advertising," will be one of three addresses. The other two speakers being Roy Cowan, president of Southwest Printing, Dallas, talking on "Direct Mail Advertising," and Ted McSoleman, director of A. Harris & Co., Dallas, who will speak on "Window Display."

Mr. Owen will leave here for Dallas Sunday, May 27. A style show is scheduled Tuesday morning, followed by the advertising clinic held before 600 buyers Tuesday night.

Ben Owen has been in retail dry goods for 15 years. He started in 1936 at Lewisville, opening a combination dry goods, variety, and grocery store. In 1939 he opened a store at Prescott, and in 1942 another at Mena.

Then he was called to service with the navy, and disposed of his mercantile holdings.

Returning from the war he opened the Hope store in 1945, and expanded his department store group as follows: Prescott 1946; Nashville 1947; Magnolia 1948; Camden 1949; and a second Hope store, the White Elephant, at Camden, Tenn., in 1950.

Emmet Soldier Playing With Band in Korea

Hq., Fifth Air Force in Korea—Cpl. William R. Beatty, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beatty of Emmet, Ark., recently arrived in Korea with the Fifth Air Force's 74th Air Force Band.

Corporal Beatty plays trumpet in the concert and marching band which participates in military ceremonies and gives special performances for Fifth Air Force units in the combat zone.

A former student at Hope High school, Hope, Ark., where he played in the high school band, Beatty entered the service in February, 1950. He was sent to Japan for occupation duty last September.

Beatty was stationed with the 74th at Nagoya Air Base in Japan until the band was transferred to Korea to entertain troops in the field.

Bag Snatched From Train Discovered by Two Youths

A ladies' traveling bag snatched from the vestibule of a Missouri Pacific train in the local station the night of May 21, was found intact yesterday in a culvert on the Spring Hill road by two young boys.

The bag belonged to Jean Carver of Arkadelphia, who was enroute to California. She was changing trains here when an unidentified man seized the bag and fled.

It was found by Doyle and Ernest Whitten, a Star newsboy, who promptly reported it to police.

Officers found the bag had not been opened.

Revival of Loan Story Is Revenge

Washington, May 24 — (AP) — Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) again has discounted a story that he once tried to influence the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to loan $500,000 to a Hot Springs, Ark., tourist court.
Fulbright blames "someone trying to get even" for revival of the "unjustified story."
Fulbright said his only connection with the loan — which later was approved for the Jack Tar courts at Hot Springs for construction of a bath house — were two routine letters asking that the application be given consideration.
The Arkansas senator also said a Senate banking subcommittee which investigated the RFC.
Fulbright said he had heard that two former RFC directors may have been responsible for revival of a story (published in the Chicago Tribune and Washington Times-Herald) of the reported attempt to "influence" the lending agency.

The senator said his letters to the RFC, written from his Fayetteville, Ark., home in August, 1948, had long been public property.

Church Believes Preachers Underpaid

Cincinnati, May 25 — (AP) — The department of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. frankly today that a "large number" of its churches underpay their preachers.
The department of ministerial relations asked the general assembly, governing body of the church to do something about the situation.
The average salary of a church's 8,000 active pastors is between $3,400 and $3,700 a year. Some get as low as $2,100, and $4,000 or $4,500.
An official estimated that ministerial salaries had increased perhaps 25 per cent in the last years, compared with boosts of 50 and 100 per cent in other occupations.
The department asked the general assembly to encourage Presbyterian churches to increase salaries.

"Straight is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." Matthew 7:14. A playground does not need a straight path, but the highway to important goals must be straight. Much of the work of the road makers of our day is consumed in straightening out winding roads of yesterday. Trucks loaded with food for hungry people, ambulances carrying the sick and automobiles filled with travelers pointed toward home... all are demanding the straight road.

Great spiritual leaders and teachers have insisted through the centuries that every soul must demand the same sort of "straight and narrow way" along which to move with directness and devotion toward the "good goal." We find goals that are destructive if we tarry too long with the jostling and self-indulgent throng along wide roads which are only midway for State Fairs and playgrounds for immature spirits. The kingdom of God is not reached in such fashion. If you are bent toward the Heavenly goal... choose the "straight and narrow way" that leads to life everlasting.

The "straight and narrow" road begins exactly where you are standing today. If you will but lift your eyes to the hills of God, the path will be seen. The footprints of noble pilgrims, who have gone before, will be shining bright as day. The "straight and narrow way" is the only way.

The Form Divine

Random House, Inc.

THE STORY: Lucilla Welch, 37, enrolls in the beautiful You School to improve her figure without telling her husband there was a $200 fee. She is the lone bony (skinny type) in a class of 15. The rest are bulgies. She becomes acquainted with Paris (real name Alfred Green), a show girl, and a Mrs. Colpa, who thinks she is losing her grip on her husband. Already Arthur, Lucilla's husband, is mystified by his wife's reluctance to talk about the school, or even remember the name of it.

THE FORM DIVINE

THE next morning Arthur woke up several minutes before the alarm was due to go off, and was sleepily surprised to see that his wife's bed was already empty. His mind drifted in the becalmed waters between sleep and reality, and he was in the midst of a pleasant yawn when he saw Lucilla, nude, hanging in the doorway. The sight nearly unhinged his jaw.
His first horrible thought was that she was trying to do herself in. Her back was to him, she was clutching the door jamb, and her feet dangled just above a stool. Even as he let out a hoarse cry, intended to convey, "Hold on till I get there," she jerked oddly in mid-air, one flailing foot caught the edge of the stool, knocking it over, and she dropped, landing heavily on her bare soles. As she leaned against the side of the door, panting, she said something that sounded like "I'm practicing sinning." Her usually neat hair streamed wildly, her face was flushed, and this, with her nakedness, made the remark doubly ominous.

The alarm went off with a cackling suddenness. As if it rang a bell in Lucilla's head, recalling her to the conventions of middle-class living, she grabbed her nightgown off the chair, discarded it for her terry cloth robe, and thus wrapped, yawned, "I didn't expect you to wake up so soon."
Arthur sat on the edge of the bed, staring at her.

Comedian Fanny Brice Seriously Ill

Hollywood, May 25 — (AP) — Fanny Brice, radio and stage comedienne who once said she had gotten everything out of life, is critically ill.

The creator of the radio character, "Baby Snooks," suffered a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday at her Beverly Hills home. She was taken to Cedars of Lebanon hospital and placed in an oxygen tent.

Miss Brice, 56, has been in show business since she was 13. She said she planned to retire some time this year "because it's too much work."

Her precocious character, "Baby Snooks," was introduced in the 1921 Ziegfeld follies and became an immediate hit, but did not take to the air waves until 1938, when it became a household name. She was earning 6,000 a week from the radio program 1948 and said: "It's like stealing; I don't have to work into it, for it's part of me."

It was a bloody, yellow bedspread the song "My Man" famous, and she came to Hollywood in 1947 for her debut in a picture of the same title.

Miss Brice has been married three times. Her first husband was Frank White, a Springfield, Mass., barber shop owner, but the union was annulled.

The osprey, a bird that lives on fish, can neither dive nor swim.

'The Thing' Comes to Hope on Sunday

Hailed as one of the most suspenseful pictures ever made, Howard Hawks' production, "The Thing," offers a cast of brilliant new faces in an amazing story of a terrifying visitor from the sky.

The thrilling melodrama distributed by RKO Radio, has its locale near the North Pole, at a base where a group of American scientists are investigating Arctic phenomena. When a mysterious spaceship crashes near by, the scientists radio the Air Force at Anchorage, Alaska, and a group of Army fliers arrive on the scene.

The spaceship is accidentally destroyed, but one of its "crew" is rescued and taken to the base. The subsequent thrilling developments take the form of conflict between the scientific group who wish to study the fearsome "thing" and the Air Force captain who realizes it possesses a terrible threat to all civilization and wants to destroy it while there is time.

Kenneth Tobey, as the captain, and Margaret Sheridan, a ship's secretary of the scientific group, head this competent cast of newcomers, which Producer Howard Hawks picked for his unique Corporation. Dewey Martin and James Young as two of the fliers, Douglas Spencer as a newspaperman and Robert Cornthwaite, Edward Franz and John Dierks as scientists have the other top parts along with Jim Arnes, who has the title role. Christian Nyby directed the film of the widely-discussed story by John W. Campbell Jr., and the result is rated one of the most sensational pictures in screen annals.

Test to Decide Fate of College Students

Princeton, J. May 25 — (AP) — A three-hour test tomorrow may determine whether 175,000 students throughout the nation will stay in college or should shoulder a gun.

Deferments until Aug. 30 have been authorized for an estimated 500,000 draft-age collegeans to permit them to take the examination either tomorrow, June 18, June 30 or July 12.

Midnight tonight is the deadline to apply for the test on the last three dates.

The tests will be given in more than 1,000 centers across the country.

Scores will be sent to local draft boards within a month after the exams of use along with college grades in deciding who will serve best in the classroom or in uniform during the present emergency.

Students will have to ask their local draft board for their marks. The education testing service of Princeton will administer the exams for selective service. A spokesman for the ETS said the test was designed solely to check on ability to tackle college work. Questions will be on the multiple choice type with the student asked to pick the best answer to a given problem.

Although selective service has left final decisions up to the local boards, it has suggested these standards to guide them on deferments:

1. Seniors should be permitted to finish their college education.

2. Seniors who wish to go to graduate school should be in the upper half of their class or score 70 in the test.

3. Freshmen should be in the upper half of their class or score 70.

4. Sophomores should be in the upper two-thirds of their class or score 70.

5. Juniors should be in the upper three-fourths of their class or score 70.

Fulbright Again Denies Charge

Washington, May 25 — (AP) — the second time in as many months Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) denied any attempt to influence decisions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Fulbright said yesterday that "quite clear" someone with grudge, arising from the senate's disclosure in trying to "plant" a story in the newspapers to discredit him.

The senator said he had been getting tips that he tried properly to influence the RFC, cut the interest rate on government loans to the Reynolds Metals Co., which operates bauxite and aluminum plants in Arkansas.

Fulbright said officials of Reynolds told him the company was being charged a higher interest rate on money borrowed from the RFC than competitors were being to pay on loans from government agencies when he called to his attention, he said, but that the rates remained unchanged.

Wednesday Fulbright denied report that he attempted to influence RFC in a loan application filed by a Hot Springs motor company and later granted.

"Most Dependable Car in America?"

Everyone knows that Pontiac is famous for dependability. If you want personal confirmation, talk to a few owners who have driven Pontiacs over the years. You'll be surprised how many say: "Pontiac is the most dependable car in America!"

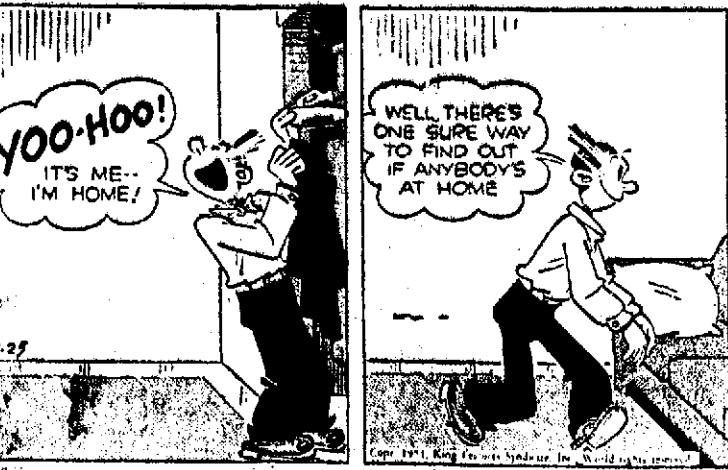

That's an important reason why the 1951 Pontiac is in such tremendous demand. True, it's the most beautiful thing on wheels—a joy to drive and ride in. But Pontiac dependability is convincing a lot of people to make Pontiac their first choice.

Long, trouble-free operation is a big reason why dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac! Come in and get the facts and figures that prove it.
